Georgia Military College to Continue Remote Learning

MILLEDGEVILLE, GA – In accordance with Governor Brian Kemp’s executive order of March 26, 2020, that public post-secondary schools remain closed for in-seat class instruction for the remainder of the term, students attending Georgia Military College will continue to learn in a remote setting for the remainder of the spring term.

GMC will continue to support our students to the best of our ability, and to ensure their success. GMC is continuing to rigidly enforce hand sanitation and enhanced cleaning of every campus, along with social distancing, to minimize the possibility of the presence of COVID-19. All campuses remain open to students by appointment only, for the purpose of conducting business. Faculty will continue to teach in their current status to provide remote instruction for the term.
