Georgia Military College academic offerings are grouped into academic divisions and a military science division. Program Deans and the Military Science Division Commander, acting under the Senior Vice President, Chief Academic Officer, and Dean of Faculty, exercise close supervision over course content and instructional procedures.

The divisions are the following: Business, Computer Information Systems, Education, First Year Experience, Humanities, Justice Studies, Mathematics, Military Science*, Natural Sciences, and Social and Behavioral Sciences.

The Military Science Division offers senior ROTC programs taught by active duty U.S. Army officers and on commissioned officers certified by the United States Army.*
